"I started at A+ Science just few weeks ago, early January and it feels really good. A+ Science is a real welcoming company where I find my new colleagues engaged, dedicated and knowledgeable in the work they do. I am so glad that I have got this opportunity to become part of A+ science. For me it has always been exciting to follow investigational products until they are approved, it is even more exciting seeing patients, most often vulnerable patient groups, get the help they need. I am looking forward to continue on working extensively with clinical trials and contribute in making a difference in patients' lives." Says Karin Gatenbeck.
