

A+ Science Newsletter, October 2017

"A flexible mind has a better chance to think differently and take a unique path in the life journey."

Pearl Zhu

Autumn is here, we hope all our readers are enjoying the wonderful colors of nature.

A+ Science attended Park Annual 17 which took place on 27th of September at Wallenberg's Conference Center in Gothenburg where about 500 entrepreneurs, scientists, innovators, companies and investors gathered to enjoy an inspiring day.

In this newsletter, we would like to focus on the benefits of a Contract Research Organisation (CRO). Firstly, it is important to understand what is meant by a CRO.

According to Wikipedia, a Contract Research Organisation (CRO) is an organisation that provides support to the pharmaceutical, biotechnology and medical device industries in the form of research services outsourced on a contract basis.

The advantage of incorporating the CRO at the early stages allows the project to be carefully planned. This will help identify risks that could prevent potential issues arising in later stages.

As the world of product development becomes more complex, many sponsors are finding that outsourcing to CROs provides many strategic benefits. If you are just starting with your clinical program, you may wish to have the undivided attention of your CRO in a partner-like model.

Our efficient and effective clinical team can streamline your trial planning, start-up, monitoring and management to deliver the data you need, in a quick and cost-effective manner.

It is not the size of your CRO partner which matters, it is the quality of the services and the people you are working with. Relationships are very important for us.

Reach out to learn more about how our approach, experience, highly-skilled clinical team, custom-made and flexible solutions deliver success for our clients. We will make your success our primary focus.
