"I have worked with different specialties within the emergency and intensive medical care. Predominantly in the emergency room and the cardiac intensive unit. Over the last four years I have been working as an Anaesthetic Nurse in the operation room. I have also worked with phase 1 research project. Furthermore, I have had the opportunity to work with Doctors Without Borders for six months in South Sudan.

Working now as a research nurse means different challenges and different expectations which I'm looking forward to. I must also say it's very nice and exciting working with such competent and helpful colleagues at A+ Science." says Mona.
